TESTER 1 Sandra Waller, 51, unemployed, Penrith, Cumbria

Sandra says
'From this reading, I'd like to discover if I'm going to find love and happiness in my future.'

Sandra

Hayley's reading

'I see your ex-partner returning some of your belongings next month, but you'll get back together soon afterwards.

'If you decide against this, your grandmother in spirit will send a man called Tim your way. She's so keen to get her opinions across that your mum can't get a word in edgeways!

'I see you polishing some silver trophies - could this be a new job coming up?

'Your younger son is in two minds whether to accept a job offer. He'll go for it, but it will pay less than he's expecting, and your gran says he'd make a better policeman as he's a good negotiator.

'Your eldest son will soon buy a house with his girlfriend, and they'll be married in three years.'

Sandra's verdict

'My ex, Andrew, 52, and I split up last May. He still has my things, which I'll be happy to get back. As for whether we'll hook up again, who knows?'

'Hayley saw me polishing trophies, which suggests I'll get work as a cleaner, but I have long-term health problems and haven't worked since 1995, so I can't see this coming true.

'My gran, Lily, who passed away 28 years ago, was more outspoken than my mum, Lillian, who died in 1995. Gran's right - my son, Lee, 23, would make a great policeman. He's currently in two minds about a job fixing computers.

'My eldest son, James, 27, is house-hunting with his girlfriend, Clare. I'm pleased they'll be happy together.'

Rating: 'I was impressed, so it's an eight out of 10.'

OVERALL RATING
17/20

TESTER 2 Karen Prior, 38, unemployed, St Albans, Hertfordshire

Karen says
'I've never had a phone reading before, so I'd like to see what Hayley picks up about me.'

Karen

Hayley's reading

'Your paternal grandmother is your spirit guide, and she's giving me the name Sylvia.

'I sense you're living with your parents, but I see you getting a new job in customer services and moving into your own cottage in March.

'Two girls aged about 25 are around you, and they are either stepchildren or extended family.

'In June or July next year, you'll meet a tall man of Greek descent with whom you'll eventually buy a house. After that, you'll take up an evening course, which will be in something fun, like numerology.'

Karen's verdict

'Although my paternal grandma's name was Betty, my mum is called Sylvia, which really impressed me.

'I do live with her and my dad, but whenever I've moved out, something has gone wrong, so I don't plan on moving any time soon!

'In June 2010, I fell ill and lost my job in a call centre. I'm better now and I'd really like the sort of job Hayley described. I've been single for a while, so the new man sounds great, too!

'The two girls are close friends of the family. I could see myself doing a course in numerology, but only after I've got other areas of my life sorted out first.'

Rating: 'It's a nine out of 10 for me. I enjoyed Hayley's reading and would recommend her.'
